Education and Athletics Administrators, Coaches, and Students

"Title IX and Interscholastic Athletics: How It All Works — In Plain English," a self-evaluation manual and desk reference for high schools and middle schools, is the one-stop encyclopedia for Title IX's application to interscholastic athletics programs. This 700-page Manual/Workbook is a comprehensive, definitive, and unique guide that contains step-by-step instructions for conducting an accurate self-evaluation and finding answers for Title IX questions.

The Manual/Workbook (sold as one item) is a desk reference for education and athletics administrators, Title IX coordinators, district counsel, coaches, and students and includes the full text and summaries of Title IX athletics policy documents. The Workbook contains questionnaires, charts and instructions for each of the 13 Title IX athletics program components. The Workbook is at the "Resources" tab of the Good Sports, Inc., website at www.TitleIXSpecialists.com in PDF format, while separate Word files include the questionnaires for coaches, staff, and student-athletes, which may be completed and transmitted in Word, and charts for recording information, also in Word.
